

DID YOU KNOW?

CoCo VENEERS

Constant Color (CoCo) is processed using water pressure and heat to mimic natural aging, resulting in consistency and tones that echo the look and feel of aged bog oak. The CoCo process accelerates the veneer's natural change of color and imbues tones deeply into the wood.

Several light, medium and dark shades of brown and grey are produced, creating veneer that's environmentally friendly, available in high volume with colors that are consistent from flitch to flitch, project to project, time after time. CoCo veneers are an excellent choice for creating seamlessly matched installations on large-scale or in phased development projects.

PLEASE NOTE:

Photo images of each specie are just that, images. Actual veneers in inventory may vary depending on availability.

We have your best interests in mind with every veneer we find.
